Mrs. H. P. Balivet Jr.
Flanders' Daughter
ST. JOHNSBURY,
VT. (AP).

Mrs. Nancy Flanders Balivet, forty-three, daughter of former U. S. Sen. Ralph Flanders, died last night after a long illness.

A native of Springfield, where her parents now live, Mrs. Balivet taught at Germantown Friends School in Pennsylvania and later worked for rural churches in Vermont.

Her husband, Henry P. Balivet Jr., was employed in Sen. Flanders' Washington office and now works for Jones and Lamson Machine Co., St. Johnsbury. Besides her husband, five children survive.
